

Pozo de Bastante Hormigas (PS14)

Depth: 18 m

This pit is located on Mesa el Huisache. It was discovered on 25 November 2009 by Sandi Calhoun, Rodolfo Maltos, Taco Van Ieperin, and Peter Sprouse. Joe Datri, Jean Krejca, and Ellie Watson explored it on 12 February 2010. Joe chopped down a large prickly pear cactus that was hindering access. The freshly cut cactus attracted a massive amount of ants. Ellie rigged, Joe was on instruments, and Jean sketched. This cave had two pitches, but they were able to free climb the second one.
